Charms of Municipal Parks are Enhanced

Under the untiring and energetic efforts of the SERA forces which have been alloted to the municipal park, that beautiful bit of woodland, meadow and moss covered boulders is being transformed into one of the most charming recreation spots. The underbrush throughout the park has been largely removed; trees have been trimmed; trails are building, the parking area is being leveled, and the bank above the swimming pool has been terraced; trenches through the meadow have been dug for draining and these will be filled with broken rock; Little Deer Creek is soon to be diverted to run along the eastern edge of the ten-acre tract, in order to leave the meadow clear for fine recreation field, where football, basketball, baseball and, eventually, tennis will provide sports for Nevada City young and old people and their guests for years to come.

Mayor Al Seamon declares that when this SERA project for the city park, aggregating $16,000, is completed. Nevada City people, the owners of it, are going to be pround of it. E. J. Moomey, foreman in charge of the work, has nearly 40 men employed in building trails through the groves of cedar and pine, digging the drainage ditches, building roadways, dynamiting boulders, erecting rock walls and terraces and throwing rustic bridges across the little stream that flows into Little Deer Creek. In a month or two the terraced bank above the swimming pool will be planted to shrubs.

It is worth anyone's time who is interested in his own community to go out to the park next Sunday and see the transformation of wild woodland into a usable recreation park for the use of Nevada City folks and their children.

The College of Pacific quint will be the first collegiate team to play here in a number of years, and a good crowd of local cage fans is expected to turn out for the game.

The Merchants ended up in third place in the Placer-Nevada basketball league, due to a number of tough breaks, and having some "off" nights. However, they expect to be in good form for tomorrow night's fray, and stand an excellent chance of trimming the college boys, from the Delta city. There will be both A and B games, the B game to start at 7:00 p. m.

Rev. Buckner said it was an unusually fine course of lectures, among the most outstanding speakers were Roger Babson and Dr. G. Alexander. Rev. Buckner also most heartily recommends to the people of Nevada City the lecture to be given by Dr. Tully C. Knoles at the Elks' Club on Monday night under the auspices of the Woman's Civic Club to which the public is cordially invited. There is no admission charge.

SCOUT NATIONAL JAMBOREE MAKES WIDE INTEREST

Judge Raglan Tuttle, chairman of the Area Council Jamboree committee for Boy Scouts states that much interest is being shown by scouts and parents in theScout National Jamboree at Washington, D. C., this summer. Troop committees have met to prepare lists of scouts eligible to make the trip as representatives of their troop. This selection must be made, or a declaration to have a delegate attend, in the hands of the Tahoe Council Jamboree Committe by April 1.

Because only a limited number can be accomodated on the trip, a quota of one representative from each troop in the council is the basis of numbers to go. This means a camp of 35,000 delegates at Washington, D. C. If a troop cannot sent a representative, the right is waived by the troop committee and the Council Jamboree Committee will assign an extra delegate to another troop.

The troop committees are selecting scout representatives on the following requirements which are both national and local:

1. The scout must be registered for one year by July 1, 1935.
2. He must be a First Class by July 1, 1935.
3. He must have had 10 days camping experience in a regularly organized scout camp.
4. Must be prepared to spend at least three days with the Jamboree troop for training prior to leaving for the Jamboree.
5. Must furnish certificate of fitness (physical), including typhoid and small pox innoculation along along the lines of the national council health form.
6. Must be faithful in troop meeting attendance (75%) over the past year according to the troop records of attendance.
7. Must demonstrate leadership to the satisfacton of the troop committee and scoutmaster.
8. Must have a distinctly scout attitude.
9. Must possess Merit Badges in Personal Health, Public Health, Safety, First Aid, Civics, Pioneering and Cooking.

Each troop may elect a 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and fourth alternate in addition to the representative. These named to be filed with the Jamboree committee so extra placements may be made if possible.

FRIENDS VISIT O. D. WOODMAN IN N. C.

Messrs. O. D. and Freeman Woodman were given a pleasant surprise last week end when Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Bush of Auburn, Maine, who are neighbors of Miss Woodman and Charles Woodman, sister and brother the local Woodman brothers, called on them here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bush started on an auto trip to visit relatives in Sacramento and stopped many places enroute to call on relatives and former friends. Bush brothers are contractors and as work can not be done in Auburn in winter time the men then take their vacations. Mr. Bush's brother visited California last year and was so delighted he insisted M. O. Bush visit this year instead of going to Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Bush were so pleased they wish to come her to reside and are planning another visit before long.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schiffner and Mr. and Mrs. E. Conveys motored up from San Francisco today to be the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Schiffner and family.

SAN JUAN RIDGE LEAGUE SEEKS TO IMPROVE SCHOOL

The San Juan Improvement League met Wednesday night and arranged to sponsor a dance for the benefit of the San Juan school to cooperate with the school trustees to secure new black boards and other necessary equipment. A committee consisting of Mrs. George Uhrig, secretary of the League, F. Miller, president. E. Haslett, treasurer and Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson of the executive committee, were appointed to meet with Mr. John H. Dale of the state department of School Housing Survey. They met yesterday morning with County Superintendent Mrs. Ella M. Austin. Needs of the San Juan school district were discussed. The school, now in use, was built to accommodate twenty pupils. There is now an enrollment of 49 and the old inadequate Solari building has been rented by the trustees to take care of the overflow.

At the meeting yesterday morning the needs of the school were discussed and they are now considering whether to build a new school house or to repair and enlarge the old one. Arrangements will be made to meet again with Dr. Charles Brush, of the state department of education in the near future to consider possible ways and means of raising money for the proposed building with out imposing a heavy tax upon the people.

The next meeting of the San Juan Ridge Improvement League will be on March. 6.

JANUARY GAS TAX TOTALS $3,002,383

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—California's gasoline tax for January has reached a total of $3,002,383.93, or $402,493.74 more than the tax for the first month of 1934. This gain of 1.5 per cent was announced here today by the State Board of Equalization when assessment of last month's tax of three cents per gallon on motor vehicle fuel was completed.

Contrasting the gain registered at the beginning of this year with a loss of 3.8 per cent shown by comparison of the January 1934 tax with that for the first month of 19933, the Equalization Board predicts that gasoline tax collections for 1935 may be expected to show a definite improvement.

The thirty elementary districts in the county received a total of $22,187.48 for the two months, while the three high school districts received a total of $12,630.36 from the state. A sum of $560 was included in the elementary apportionment to take care of Rural School Supervision.

The Nevada City Fire Department has received an invitation from Chief Hoskins, of Grass Valley, to attend their annual ball tomorrow, Saturday night. Fire Chief E. J. N. Ott, of Nevada City requests that all members who can do so attend and enjoy the usual good time.

GRAHAM PROPERTY

It is understood good values in gold are being recovered by an arastra which is being used to work the gravel mined by William Graham and partners on the Graham property northeast of Nevada City. A new 130 foot shaft was sunk in the Manzanita Diggings and a drift was run connecting with the old working a short time ago. The old tunnel, about 2500 feet long was lost about two years ago through too much water after the men had just reached the channel.

Dr. Tully Knoles to Speak Mon. Night on "Are We Isolated?

The talk to be given by Dr. Tully C. Knoles at the Elks' Club rooms on next Monday night, and to which the public is invited, is on a subject in which all thinking Americans are vitally interested. The topic "Are We Isolated?" is one that today arouses wide attention. Dr. Knoles is one of the most prominent proponents of peace in the United States. He studied conditions in Russia, some years after the Bolsheviks had introduced communistic government. He has visited most of the great capitals of the world and can speak with the authority of first hand information regarding international forces that make for peace or war.

The public is urged to hear this most interesting talk on so vital a subject, which is held under the auspices of the Woman's Civic Club in the Elks' rooms which have been so generously donated for the occasion. There is no admission charge.

A musical program will precede Dr. Knole's talk, Mr. Thomas K. Caldwell will render some violin solos and Mrs. P. Bonner will sing, accompanied by Miss Minnie Brand.

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY IN MEMORY OF MRS. BRAND, MRS. MOBLEY

The dedication of trees to the memory of the late Mrs. Bessie Stevens Mobley and Mrs. C. J. Brand, took place in the grounds of the library Wednesday afternoon with a very beauttiful ceremony. The library grounds were chosen as the place for the memorial tree planting because these two beloved women had so generously given of their time and labor to help beautify the library and library grounds. The assemblage was called to order by Mrs. Belle Douglass.

Mrs. W. P. Sawyer dedicated the tree, an arbor vitae, to the memory of Mrs. Brand and during the planting Mrs. Bonner sang, "A Tree."

Mrs. Raglan Tuttle dedicated the Colorado Spruce in memory of Mrs. Mobley and read a poem written by Mrs. A. Merriam Conner.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. MOBLEY

By A. Merriam Conner

The clouds will part above the gleaming ranges.
And gentle Western winds will blow,
Bringing to us the perfumed springtime
That she was not to know.
And, we who miss her gracious presence,
Her laughter and her song,
Shall hear her voice from distant realms of silence,
Bidding us still, "be strong."

In this sequestered spot by memory hallowed,
A living tree beneath the open sky,
Will breathe her name in tones of whispering music
As the long years go by.
And growing it will symbolize her spirit,
Forever reaching toward the light,
Brave in the storm, true in the light of noonttide,
Undaunted by the night.

Spring will depart and summer follow after,
Light winds will sweep across the yellow grass
And Autumn, trailing robes of mystic beauty,
In turn will pass;
And she who welcomed each returning season,
Rejoiced in pearly morn and dewy eve,
Still bids us smile, remembering her gladness,
She would not have us grieve.

We knew her dreams and shared her aspirations,
Ours are the tasks her hands let fall,
Through the deep silence and the throb of sorrow,
The angel voices call;
"Look up" they cry, the stars of night are shining,
And rainbows gleam when days are drear and long;
Look up and smile, remembering her gladness—
Her laughter and her song.

—A. Merriam Conner.

Mrs. Elliott then sang "The End Of a Perfect Day" and the following beautiful sentiment by Mrs. Douglass brought the meeting to a close:

We pray that thy fair branches,
tree, Pointing to Heaven above,
May guide our eyes to look with thee
Up to the course of love.
There may we inspiration find,
Whence comes sunshine and light,
There courage seek for heart and mind,
To work for God and right.

ANOTHER 'LEGGER GETS STIFF JOLT

Immediately after he was fined $250 in the justice court here Wednesday on a charge of wholesaling liquor without a license, Leonardo Viviani, 46, of Lincoln, who is said to have sold his liquor throughout Northern California, was taken to Sacramento by Federal Agent John Ure to face a Federal charge of selling untaxed liquor. The state and Federal authorities raided his plant in Lincoln, destroying many gallons of wine and whisky.

Viviani was arrested by Ure, Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen and Russel Farley and Chester Smith, state lisuor control investigators in Rough and Ready after a 24-hour vigil. Nine five-gallon cases of whisky were confiscated by the officers.

It is reported Viviani sold his bootleg liquor in many cities in Superor California.

John DeFillipi, of Rough and Ready was also arrested Wednesday on a charge of having untaxed liquor in his possession. The officers stated Viviani was to deliver liquor to DeFillipi today.

HOGE TALKS TEAM TO VICTORY OVER CURNOW SQUAD IN ELKS' TOURNEY

Between the super-heckling of "Fighting Arthur" Hoge, and the high point bowling of Nat Jackson, the Curnow squad went down to bitter defeat at the hands of Hoge men Tuesday night, by the score of 3-1. Before the game Horace Curnow stated that "even the professionals have an off night once in a while." But what made it bad was that there was a great big Italian dinner at stake which the winning team was due to collect.

This statement was only too well borne out by the subsequent massacre of the Curnow men who seemed to be unable to cope with the chatter of Hoge. Time after time the Curnow men were rattled by the ever ceasing flow of "Lill" Arthur's chat. After the game Hoge immediately proclaimed his team co-champions with the Curnow outfit, however, as this game was only a post-tournament affair, this stand will not hold water.

The consensus of opinion among the Curnow players seemed to be that a big bowl of cyanide soup would be the appropriate dish for the Hoge team.

OUT OF THE WOODS

The Supreme Court decision declaring that the gold payment clause in United States bonds means what it says, but holding that there is no way to recover gold values now except by proving actual damages arising from Congressional devaluation of the dollar, does clear the air.

While we may admire the personal courage behind such dissentient opinions as those expressed by Justice Reynolds of the Supreme Bench and Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, it must be recognized these opinions come from exponents of the Old School of "individualism and rugged Americanism." The day apparently is past when individualist can ruggedly disregard by legal means, the moral rights of his fellow countrymen.

The Supreme Court decision, giving with one hand and taking away with the other, to all practical purposes, leaves the situation as regards government bonds, with their gold clauses, unchanged. Owners of such bonds will receive face value in dollars, whatever they are worth at the time of redemption, and not in gold or its equivalent in devalued dollars.

It goes wihtout saying that this is an anomalous condition. All the rights of a government bond holder, as regards the contract for payment in gold, are preserved, but actually he cannot exercise them.

Disregarding for a moment the legal aspects of this anomaly, the big salient fact standing out on an eminence is that substantial justice has been done. The man who invested in land, or private securities of any kind, in building shares, and, in fact, in almost any form of property, has taken heavy losses due to the depression. And now, in effect, the Supreme Court has decreed that the owner of government or public bonds, must take his loss with the rest.

Were the decision otherwise, and holders of Federal, state and municipal bonds, were able to compel payment either in gold or devalued dollars, as matters stand, such payment would constitute a huge premium over the original investment, because, as a matter of actual fact, the devaluated dollars of today, will buy almost as much as the dollar of two years ago. There has been a general price advance of course, but it does not nearly equal the difference between $1,000 gold, in January 1933, and $1,690, to which government bond holders now contend they are entitled when bonds are paid.

There is a general feeling among business men that the Supreme Court decision is the last bridge between the depression and recovery. There have been from time to time prophecies, even setting the month, when the depression would formally end. But with so momentous a matter pending as the determination of whether or not our money is really sound, or whether the New Deal administration would or would not be forced to go the rest of the way toward inflation in order to pay off all government bonds in devaluated dollars, such forecasts were nothing to cheer about.

Today scores of voices from many leaders are raising a shout that the depression is over, that we are now out of the woods. We would cheerfully subscribe to this flamboyant viewpoint were it not for the fact that employment is but little diminished from a year ago. Huge sums are, and must still be, expended in aiding the unemployed. Until unemployment has shrunk to something like normal proportions we cannot be said to have recovered.

But while we perhaps are still far from the goal, it does not mean we have not come a long way. The country has certainly shaken off its panic and despair. Consumption has greatly increased. Farm prices have advanced. Steel orders are constantly rising. Car loadings show a great increase. Severe srikes usually heralded recovery and we have had them. The administration, attempting to keep peace with bettered conditions, is making a determined effort to cut down the dole and increase the jobs by means of the great five billion dollar appropriation for public works over which measure the Senate is now battling. The fact that the Senate is battling, is a sign of good health, analogous in the political field to labor's strikes in the industrial field.

We are not yet out of the woods, but the trees are beginning to thin out.

ALTERATION MADE IN SCHREIBER BTILDING

The corner of the Schreiber building, formerly used as a cigar stand, Pine and Broad streets, has been closed in and the space Ernest Schreiber states, will be occupied by his liquor department. The present liquor store will be leased. Bricking up the outside walls and filling in the gap in the building gives the corner a much neater appearance.

"Marry him, my dear, and between us we'll convince him that he's wrong."

Have You Heard ?

BY

Katie Lewis

FRENCH CORRAL, Feb. 22.—Have I told you that Mrs. William Hudson, who lives near Crockett, Tennessee, has a copper kettle purchased by her family during the Revolutionary War? 'Tis said to be in good condition and is being used daily.

No less an authority than Richard S. Requa, supervising architect of the California Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Diego during 1935, states that a reproduction of an ancient Spanish garden with terraces, fountains and pergolas will be one of the elaborate features. Requa declared the garden is being reproduced from photographs taken several years ago. The model he said, lies in Ronda, near Gibraltar, and one of the finest gardens in all Spain.

My limited budget will not allow me to travel southward to San Diego to see that wonderful garden, but what do I care? I live in one of the finest gardens in all California. Low rolling foothills completely surround me and are terraced with green velvetry grass studded with brilliant wildflowers. Deep subterranean wells offer me fountains of sparkling stream water and on every slope I may walk under pergolas of fragrant living evergreens every day in the year.

In the day time the skies are a glorious blue and the golden sunshine warms me to my very toes. At night I can look up into the darkness and admire the ancient wonders of the heavens—stars big and bright and twinkling through uncomputed space—or a lovely lazy moon gliding serenely over and drenching the hills and valleys fairy silaver. Every breath of air I breathe is pure and sweet and highly perfumed with Chinese Lillies and the red-breasted robins feed on my lawn. Thank you, very much, Mr. Requa, but me and mine are styin' to home.

We have with us one Dragol Illic who resides in Belgrade. One day last week he wasn't very hungry, otherwise he might have bettered his record of eighty sausages at one sitting. Illic, a carpenter, devoured that many of the Serbian hot dogs made of highly spiced roasted pieces of lamb, pork and veal, washing them down with four bottles of wine.

He started fast on his first forty, but lagged a little the next ten and coasted on toward sixty. There the going got tough and he barely limped through the last twenty. A large crowd watched his and applauded his efforts but yours truly was not among those present.

PRANKSTER PAYS $10 FOR STEALING SIGN

CAMPTONVILLE, Feb. 20.—S. L. Simmons, of Sacramento, pleaded guilty in the Camptonville Justice Court Sunday afternoon to a charge of malicious mischief and was fined $10 by Judge Acton M. Cleveland. The complaint was signed by Louis Sullington, charging the defendant with taking down and carrying off a toilet sign on the property of the Cold Spring Service Station. Simmons, with a party of friends, was on a week end frolic in the snow, and the act of taking the sign was done as a frolic and joke, but the Judge ruled that such jokes when molesting private property are out of order, and accordingly imposed the fine.

STRIKING SERA MEN TRANSFERRED TO PARK

As the result of firing one man, for shirking work, from the SERA crew, which was at work leveling the athletic field at the Nevada City high school, all members of the crew went on a strike last week. Instead of permitting them to maintain the strike, SERA authorities transferred the entire crew to the municipal park where Ed Moomey, the foreman, states they are doing very satisfactory. There are now 33 men employed in making improvements in the grounds of the municipal park.

LEGISLATIVE LETTER
by Graham Berry

(By WNU Service)

With the opening of the all-important long session only a week and a half away, advocates of important issues and reforms are pushing their campaigns throughout the state. Governor Merriam has done a good deal of traveling and a good deal of talking, presenting his tax plan to people all over the state and showing them just where he plans to save them money.

He is pushing his pet plan, a plan which, he claims, will mean a saving of over $10,000,000 to the people. This is the road consolidation program, whereby the state would take over all country roads. Thus far, there has been considerable opposition to his brain child, both from country supervisors and from certain large automobile associations.

The Governor's pay-as-you-go plan has met with cheers almost everywhere, the public generally being more willing to pay now than to increase the debt and have to pay interest later.

The legislators who have returned to their districts, those not being detained on some investigating committee, are mulling over the tons of bills mailed to them from the state printing office. Owing to the great mass of proposals turned in at the last minute, the office was late in sending out copies.

Many industries and organizations are intensely interested in what will go on in Sacramento during the next two months. They are grooming lobbyists to see that their interests are considered. Much legislation is aimed at certain industries, and it's certain that the organizations will fight any bills proposing to curtail or alter their activities.

Governor Merriam has announced several times that his budget and state finance generally will come up for consideration first. Finance committees of the two houses will probably hold a joint conference a day or two after the legislature convenes. Of course consideration of the budget includes many other issues than just finances. Relief, new prison, new commissions and other items will necessarily be covered in this study.

For Domestic Bliss

Many bills pertaining to various phases of marital relations will be considered at the coming session. Back in 1927 reformers, seeking to discourage the increasing number of divorces in California, pushed through the so-called Gin Marriage Law, its sponsors believing that if couples were required to take three days' time between applying for a license and the marriage ceremony they would be less apt to marry on the spur of the moment and regret it afterwards. The plan was adopted to cut the number of divorces.

It was a fine idea but it didn't stem the rising tide of separation decrees. Even tightening the divorce laws didn't help, people flocking across the borders to Nevada and Mexico for both marriages and divorces. Even clergymen admit that the law is ineffective.

Thus it is that legislation awaits attention which would junk this ruling, making it easier to get both divorces and marriages and which would do away with suits in this state for breach of promise and alienation of affections.

If AB 1099 is enacted, all that will be needed to get a divorce is the consent of both parties. This measure would call for a permanent divorce, immediately effective, in all cases where the defendant consents to the decree.

AB 93 would allow immediate issuance of marriage licenses without the three-day delay and public notice provided for in the Gin Marriage Law.

AB 35—Allows the issuance of a final divorce thirty days after the interlocutory decree, instead of one year, as at present.

AB 135—Provides no divorce shall become final until the attorney has been paid.

AB 639—Provides that only one of the parties to be married need appear before the county clerk in applying for a license.

Concerning Reds

Like Jack Spratt and his wife, legislators are lining up on opposing sides for the coming battle which will inevitably be fought over the tolerance and intolerance of certain individual liberties, pertaining particularly to freedom of thought on what is and what is not the best form of government for the United States and California.

Bills varying from rigid provisions making it a prison offense to advocate overthrow of the existing form of government to proposals which would abolish the criminal syndicalism laws, will be up for consideration by the judiciary committees.

Thus far the Assembly has taken this whole question more seriously than the Senate, the latter house leaning more to social welfare and finance legislation. The Assembly leaders who are so strongly attacking radicalism are from Los Angeles County, while those lined up for controlled toleration are not from one locality. This is important in that 31 of the 80 assemblymen are from Los Angeles County and will probably lend their support to any major moves sponsored by neighbors. This means that the attack of the anti-radicalites will be strong.

Some of the important provisions covered by these leaders, who include Charles W. Lyon, Frank G. Martin and Kent Redwine, all of Los Angeles, are:

AB 106—Calls for forfeiture of the position of any school teacher who teaches overthrow of the government by force. Provides school-house civic centers shall not be used for discussions "of a highly controversial character," specifically shall not be used by groups advocating government overthrow.

AB 2—Declares the display of a red flag, or a banner or badge of any other color, standing for violent overthrow of government, shall be a felony.

AB 1053—Increases the penalty for criminal conspiracy.

AB 90—No political party having the violent overthrow of the representative form of government as one of its ultimate objects shall be qualified for participation in any primary election. Other bills with this qualification have also been introduced. These measures strike at the Communist Party, which at present is entitled to have its candidates placed on the California ballot.

Other bills go further than this, prohibiting any person advocating the overthrow of the American government from voting. Still other measures would bar such persons from holding public office.

On the side of increased tolerance is an almost equally strong faction. By tolerance it is not meant that this group favors radicalism in any form. Far from it. It is simply that their doctrine is more positive. They do not believe that all the "anti" bills will help the situation.

Twenty-one Assembly Democrats and two Republicans would repeal the Criminal Syndicalism Act of 1919. These legislators say their bill is an emergency measure, warranting immediate attention. Of the present syndicalism law they say:

"The act has been greatly abused by the public authorities of this state for the purpose of breaking strikes and intimidating workers advocating political changes."

Additional measures sponsored by those opposing the rabid anti-radicals include:

AB 1104—Makes it a misdemeanor for prosecuting or law enforcement officers to discriminate against any person because of political opinion or economis view.

ACA 49—Provides neither the legislature nor the court nor other officers of California shall grant or deny privileges to any person, group or association because of political opinions, economic views or political, religious or social affiliations.

AB 1101—Makes city governments liable up to $10,000 for lynchings or deaths caused by mob violence.

Another issue which is certain to come up at the March 2nd session, and which flared up in the short session, is the Tom Mooney case. An Assembly Concurrent Resolution drawn up by five legislators would request immediate unconditional pardon for Mooney and Warren K. Billings, both serving life terms for murder in the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness Day Parade bombing case.

This issue came before the house last session but was sidetracked after brief but spirited debate. Fighting this resolution will be Assemblyman Charles Fisher, who was injured in the bomb explosion.

AB 319 furthers the Mooney case, admit its backers, by proposing to allow the reopening of any criminal case upon a showing of fraud in the testimony.

Plans for Jobless

All kinds of aids to jobless have been proposed. This problem will be given attention along with, and immediately after consideration of the state budget.

That legislators are aware of acute unemployment conditions, and that many of them appreciate the difficulties involved in alleviating them, is evidenced by the flood of measures hitting various phases of this complicated issue.

It has been said many times before that California's problem is the most difficult of any state in the union. This is the fastest growing state, a good deal of the increase being made up of families from the Midwest who come here because they cannot afford fuel for heat. They know that they cannot freeze in California.

It is less burdensome for relief agencies which have to take care of them wherever they were, for them to be here. In California, expenses for fuel and heavy clothing are at a minimum.

As to specific relief measures, aside from unemployment insurance, one important bill would set up small subsistence farms for needy persons, administration of this project being vested in a state relief commission.

One assemblyman advocates a sweeping system of "state treasurer's receipts" to aid the jobless. The state treasurer would be authorized to issue a kind of scrip in $1, $5 and $20 denominations as representing labor, services, materials or value. Self-help cooperatives could use this scrip to finance their projects. They would be used in relief programs and would be receivable for state taxes. This is an interesting form of miniature inflation, completely controllable by the authorities.

Bills in both Senate and the Assembly propose series of self-help cooperatives to be created by the state relief administration. The administration would be empowered to provide factories, plants, tools, technical advisors and state depots for the exchange of goods. The use of 25 per cent of the $24,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue is being sought for this enterprise. The proposal grew out of the Sinclair idea for self-help.

Another measure would set up a California Surplus and Waste Products Authority to place the state in the form crop marketing and processing business as an unemployment remedy. The manufacture of alcohol out of surplus farm products is among the projects. The bill would create a commission with the power to establish factories and state stores.

These are only one or two of the relief angles covered by legislation.

"SILVER STREAK" AND "THE BAND PLAYS ON" AT NEVADA THEATRE

Friday night Tim McCoy will be seen on the Nevada Theatre screen in a smashing Western drama "Law Beyond the Range," in which again demonstrates the daring riding and accurate shooting which won him a Colonelcy in the U. S. Cavalry, and which has brought him fame on the silver screen.

"THE SILVER STREAK

The hair raising thrillers of the Pearl White and Helen Holmes era pale into insignificance when compared to the modern thriller of the rails, "The Silver Streak," which shows Saturday at the Nevada Theatre.

It shows a train going at an incredible speed with the engineer at death grips in the cab. Around curves it goes, and through switches that open just in time, missing freight trains by an eyelash, over drawbridges that close in the nick of time.

The relief from the thrills, aside from a strong love interest between Sally Blane and Charles Starrett as the romantic leads, is the comedy provided by an able team of funny men, Edgar Kennedy, Arthur Lake and Glinn "Big Boy" Williams.

The picture features the new streamline train of the Burlington Railroad which, together with Boulder Dam, comes to the screen for the first time in "The Silver Streak."

"THE BAND PLAYS ON"

A worthy picture that throbs with the spirit of youth and moves along at a fast pace is found in "The Band Plays On," which plays Sunday at the Nevada Theatre.

Although it is a story of football heroes, it is not, in the sense of the word, a football picture. It is a picture of college days, of the trials and tribulations, the romantic interludes and the lighter moods of the effervescent students of college.

It is the story of four boys of the slums who grow up together, play football together through high school and college and who triumph over the obstacles of "pro" offers and schemes.

Too, there is a delightful boy-and-girl romance played to perfection by Betty Furness and Robert Young.

At the head stands Robert Young remembered for his work in "The House of Rothschild" and others of the finer pictures.

Stuart Erwin repeats with one of his inimitable performances as the football player who is exiled from the game by serious injuries and who fails in his bid for the love of Miss Furness.

TRAVELING CROOK GOES TO MARYSVILLE

The Traveling Crook, symbol of the Encampment of the Odd Fellow lodge that has been traveling from one lodge to another in California for the last six years, was taken to Marysville by the officers of Mistletoe lodge of this city. Those of Nevada City making the trip were: Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Darke, Mrs. Bessie Treglown, Ray Murchie, Al Seaman, Cary Arbogast, Mr. Schrader and Mrs. Jennie Shearer. There were visitors from Grass Valley and Auburn also and all enjoyed a nice program and luncheon.

GOLD NUGGET NUMBER TWO

J. Howard Keene, a former Nevada City resident, is spending a few days here visiting. He has taken a lease on a hydraulic property in Siskiyou county that has an estimated 100,000 yards of gravel. Assays have returned values of 25 cents per yard. Mr. Keene and partner have cut the bedrock race and riffles for the flume since the first of the year. The weathering hampers them to some extent. Keene came down to get mining equipment for the property.

INCOME TAX DEPRECIATION

By Alice Moore, Public Accountant

No item of business expense requires more careful study than depreciation. If you buy a truck to be used in your business, the first cost of the truck is not an expense; it is a purchase of property which will represent value for several years. But the portion of the first cost of the truck which you use up in one year is an expense for that year.

If the truck costs $1,200 and will be useful for six years, you can say that you use up $200 worth of truck each year, and deduct that amount as a depreciation expense in calculating your business profits. There are other methods of calculating depreciation, but this is the simplest and most common.

The total depreciation taken must of course, not be greater than the cost of the property. If you find you have been taking too much or too little in past years, change your rate for the remaining years.

In case property is sold or abandoned, the gain or loss is calculated on the basis of cost less depreciation charged off. (New methods of taxing capital gains and losses are explained on the income tax returns).

The government requires the taxpayer to keep a careful record of all the property on which he takes depreciation, and to furnish each year full and complete information regarding cost, age, condition, remaining useful life, and total depreciation deducted in previous years, of all property on which depreciation is taken in the income tax return.

Feeling that in the past many taxpayers have "gotten away" with too much manipulation of depreciation deductions, the Bureau of Internal Revenue will from now on require much more proof and detail from the taxpayer on this subject than in the past, and be much more strict about the amount of depreciation allowed in any one year.

There are many regulations on the subject of depreciation, covering various problems.

LAWRENCE AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE OPENS HERE ON TAHOE UKIAH HIGHWAY

Mr. Thomas Lawrence, formerly of San Francisco, has recently opened up a large garage, parts, and accessories and automobile establishment on the Tahoe Ukiah highway about a quarter of a mile above Nevada City. The new establishment has an 82 foot front reaching back 77 feet. It is a solid building erected on steel girders, with sky lights, giving plenty of light on the machine shop and parts department.

Mr. Lawrence states that he carries in stock almost every conceivable part and accessory for autos of popular make; he also has a fully-equipped machine shop and brake repairing and re-ligning department and an auto glass grinding and fitting service for every kind of car.

After looking all over California for a place to settle, Mr. Lawrence decided on Nevada City, having lived here for a time as a boy. He has been in the automobile and garage business for 25 years, coming here from San Francisco, where he has had a large establishment.

The Lawrence Automotive Service is at present engaged in installing a complete line of Standard Oil gas and lubricants. A towing service is well taken care of by the modern tow truck in use here also.

AUTO CODE HITS DRUNK DRIVERS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—Approved by the Assembly in the first half of the legislative sessions, the proposed Vehicle Code which systematizes and simplifies rules and language in the California Vehicle Act is expected to be adopted early in the second session starting March 4.

The bill will make driving laws easier to understand and their observance more widespread, in the opinion of a statewide motor vehicle conference group which has been working on the codification for the past two years. The measure is pending before the Senate Motor Vehicle Committee. It was introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman William B. Hornblower, of San Francisco.

There are no basic changes in the revised arrangement and the bill of itself should be accepted, it was said in a statement by the Legislative Bureau of the California State Automobile Association, which cooperated with the statewide conference group in working on the measure. The proposed code was drafted under supervision of the California Code Commission.

A number of proposed amendments to the vehicle laws have been introduced through other bills.

The problem of drunken driving has been given attention in an amendment proposed by the California Motor Vehicle Conference. It permits a drunken driving violation to be classed as a misdeameanor when no accident or injury is involved, in order to make punishment of offenders more certain and to simplify procedure so that municipal courts may dispose of such cases.

In support of the amendment it is pointed out that juries have been reluctant to send drunken drivers to state prison on felony charge unless serious consequences have resulted from the violation. The felony charge and state prison sentence if convicted, would still apply to those who drive while intoxicated and cause damage, injury, or death.

With the same object of more certain punishment, another amendment would establish a new offense of "negligent homicide," with a lesser penalty than manslaughter in fatal traffic accidents. The provision would apply in case where minor infractions of the vehicle law result in death.

Judge (to Prisoner): How big was the brick you threw, was it as big as my head?"

Prisoner: "Yes, your honor, but not quite so thick."

JUBILEE RALLY FOR BOY SCOUTS, AUBURN. MAR. 2

The Silver Jubilee Anniversary Rally of the scouts of Tahoe Area Council, which will be held Saturday evening March 2 at the Roseville Union high school gymnasium, promises to be larger than ever. With more scouts and cubs than ever, 600 enrolled, the program promises to be more diversified. The plans are being made to quicken and shorten the program.

Different scouting demonstrations have been promised by the scoutmasters of the troops. The Camp Fire scene has been eliminated and a short 25th Anniversary pageant has been substituted.

Only one presentation of honors will be made, when 14 new Eagle Scouts will receive the highest rank in scouting from the hands of their fathers. In two cases, two brothers, new Eagles, will be conducted during the ceremony by a third brother who is already an Eagle Scout.

The program will start promptly at 8 p. m. and will consist of scouting contests and demonstrations. The display of scout exhibits in the cafetreia below the gymnasium will be open to the public at 6:30 p. m. and will be closed and removed after the Rally starts upstairs at 8 p. m.

TO VISIT OREGON RANGERS

Leland Smith, of the Tahoe National Forest office in Nevada City, is to spend three days at Big Bend ranger station with several men from the state forestry office of San Francisco, among them being Mr. Hutchison. The trip is being made with a view of taking pictures of the winter recreational area. The Auburn Ski Club, which is holding its annual tournament, will also be taken.

Mrs. Smith and children will go the Big Bend country for the coming week end with Mr. Smith.

SNOW SCENES

Four beautiful snow scenes on the Graniteville road are on display in the Bret Harte Cigar store in Nevada City, that were taken after the big snow storm in January. Steve Mattieoda, stage driver, has his big horses, half buried in the snow, and sleigh, breaking road. The snow is evidently about three to four feet deep, but nearer Graniteville it was seven and eight feet deep on the level and 30 to 40 feet deep in the drifts.

George Cleland is erecting a two car garage in the back of his home lot on upper Pine street.

CAR OWNERS HIT TAX INCREASE

Paying an average of $44 a year in taxes per motor vehicle, car ownership and operation carries the heaviest burden of taxation in proportion to value of any taxable property.

Taxes levied upon motor vehicles in California last year totalled $68,900,000. This figure does not include state and federal sales taxes, or municipal license fees and other taxes on commercial vehicles.

Presenting detailed information in support of these figures, a statement by the California State Automobile Association voices strong opposition to proposals at the Legslature to levy additional motor vehicle taxation. These proposals, the Automobile Association points out, range from adding to present registration fees to obtain funds for governmental expenses, to the levying of an increased gasoline tax of one cent per gallon for unemployment relief.

"There is ample evidence that the motor vehicle owner is now carrying his full limit in taxes," the statement continues, "and that any additional tax will defeat its own purpose by diminishing the use of motor vehicles and the return in tax revenues.

"Most of the motor vehicle tax burdens made up of special taxes, of which the largest single item is the gasoline tax. In addition to paying these special taxes, those who own and operate motor vehicles also pay their full share of general taxes that are levied to defray the cost of government.

"Motor vehicle owners have met the heavy burden of special taxation without complaint, so long as the revenues were applied to necessary special purposes which have justified such taxation. But special taxes on motor vehicle owners for general, state or community purposes, however, urgent or worthy in themselves, constitute a gross discrimination against owners of motor vehicles as a class."

We took the little house apart
And put it back together;
And now it boldly fronts the sky
No matter what the weather.
It does not tremble in the wind
Its stairways do not creak,
Its shutters do not bump and bang,
Its new roof cannot leak.

FRIENDS ARE GUESTS IN NEW ZANOCCO HOME

The celebration of the birthday of Mr. Zanocco and a house warming were held at the new home on Park Avenue, of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Zanocco Sunday. Mr. Zanocco's birthday was on the 14th but it was decided to hold the event on Sunday so all their friends could attend.

Fully seventy sat down to a ravi-ola and chicken dinner at about one o'clock. Another group of relatives and friends enjoyed a delicious luncheon in the evening after which dancing was enjoyed in the large basement.

Friends called all during the afternoon to view the beautiful new seven room home with glassed in porch and basement. Three bedrooms and bath are finished in ivory while the living and dining rooms are finished in heavily grained wood. In the big cement basement there is a summer kitchen, furnace, laundry and store rooms. The house throughout is comfortably and modernly furnished.

Guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Zanocco and children, of Marysville; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Buscaglia and children, of Crockett.

EMPIRE-STAR MINE SUIT TRIAL DELAYED

The suit brought by the Empire-Star mine company against the Bullion mine, below Grass Valley, which was to have come up for hearing this month has been postponed until March 5th on account of the death of Judge Kerrigan which postponed the court calendar.

Another judge has to be appointed. Rumors are that it will be Frank Norcross, of Nevada, who has had a wide experience in mine litigation.

Evangeline Chapter is Hostess to Visiting Officer

Evangeline Chapter, O. E. S., entertained their Deputy Grand Matron, Sadie Tudsbury, of Penryn, Tuesday evening in a most impressive manner, the officers being highly praised for their splendid work. Augusta Smith and Lois Eden acted as proxy candidates. At the close of the meeting the five star points with tiny heart baskets of red carnations formed a large heart in front of the visiting officer and presented her a gift in another heart shaped basket. At this time Mrs. Lyda albot, matron, softly sang a song she had composed for the occasion.

Special praise was given Mrs. Helen Berger and Mrs. Alice Davies who carried out decorations on the tables in the banquet room in keeping with the three special days of this month. Each was a tiny scene.

For Lincoln was a log cabin home, bronze bust of Lincoln, two little colored children ,a card carried the words "for these he lived and died." There was a lake, a bridge with colored people on it, two huge bouquets of violets at each end, and red, white and blue candles in a large holder.

Washington's birthday was honored by a river scene, Washington Crossing the Delaware," miniature dolls in colonial costumes, many sprays of cheery blossoms, and a stump with a tiny hatchet.

The St. Valentine table carried a large bouquet of flowers in heart shape, with candy hearts, ferns and valentitne motifs strewn over the table. Pin candles shed a soft light. Several visitors from Penryn came with Mrs. Tudsbury.

FLOWERS AT NORTH SAN JUAN

The many friends of the Nugget staff who drop in to see them say "come up to see us, the flowers are in bloom." They say it is a bower o fbeauty there now, the almond and other trees are in blosso. Roses, jonquils, China lilies, violets, wild verbenia, wild violets all scent the air with their lovely perfumes. The hills are all green and it looks like a real awakening of nature.

Luncheon at San Juan

A group of friends of Mrs. C. J. Lyser, of North San Juan, gave a delightful luncheon complimentary to her last week at the home of the Misses Weinmann at Sebastopol, about one mile from San Juan. The Weinmann home was decorated with bright spring flowers and the luncheon table made festive with them. Complimenting Mrs. Lyser and enjoying the afternoon of socialbility were: Miss A. Weinmann, Miss C. Weinman, Miss Davake, Mesdames. C. J. Lyser, C. H. Jones, F. Harris and P. C. Marshall.
